RAILROAD INTERESTS.

APPEAL FROM READING RECEIVERS.

PLIGHT OF THE COMPANY IF REORGANIZATION FAILS-I. L. RICE OPPOSES THE PLAN. The following statement was given out yester.

day by W. R. Taylor, secretary to the receivers of the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad;

The receivers authorize the following statement after careful consideration of the finances of the company The receivers and that on the first of July their resources will fall about $1.500,000 (one million, five hundred thousand dollars) short of the amount necessary for current disbursements and for the rentals and interest which rent disbursements and for the rentals and interest which mature on that date. Of other indebtedness prior to the receiver-ship there remain due for materials and supplies for both companies, $1,200,000; for coal purchased, $1,225,000; for traffic balances due connecting railroads, $600,000-total, $3,025,000. In addition to this amount there are several hundred thousand dollars of indebtedness mostly for traffic balances incurred since the receivership. The amounts due to the Finance Company Departure and the Philadelphia Warchouse Company asylvania and the Philadelphia Warehouse Company Pennsylvania and the Philadelphia Warehouse Company, aggregate #3,000,000, secured by coal and other collaterals, and the other bills payable of the company, amounting to #0,867,000, are secured by the pledge of shares of bonds of the par value of #13,000,000. All Board of Managers be accepted by the security he Isaac L. Rice, who was formerly the foreign representative of the Reading Company and who examined the accounts of the company after the apfor Insurance on Lives and Granting Annulties, the trustee of the general mortgage bonds, yesterday issued a long statement attacking the plan of re-organization. Mr. Rice says that the plan interferes with the spirit. If not the letter of the general and preference income mortgages, in that it reserves as earnings applicable to the new collateral trust loan, a charge incorred subsequently to those mortgages, an annual revenue of $2,125,636 for five years, and of $2,540,156 thereafter. He says that the charge of $5,040,100 per annum placed on coal mined, together with a principal obligation of $10,000,000, largely nullifies the lien of the general and income mortgages on the coal properties of the company. Objection is on the coal properties of the company. also made to the taking of $10,363,000 general mortgage bonds, involving an interest charge of 8414,520 a year, to be used as part of the security of the proposed collateral trust loan, and Mr. Rice declares that these bonds were, by the spirit if not the letter of the mortgage, intended not to be Issued before 1825. Mr. Rice, addressing President Harris, says:

"The general mortgage bondholders you request to surrender for five years their reortgage rights, and after that period suffer a lien of possibly $5,000,00, involving a charge of $540,000 per annum, to be made superior to their mortgage." Mr. Rice also criticises the provisions for the voting trust for seven years.

The first advance of the battalion across the plain represented the exten-sion and action from a point 2,000 yards to a point the extension and action was from a point of 1,400 yards to a point 900 yards from the enemy. The third advance was from a point 900 yards to a point 500 yards from the imaginary foe, and the fourth occupied by the enemy. The drill was in all respects except in the space occupied by the troops, exactly

This evening the mortar battery down at the north side of the Point opened its usual fire on Cro' Nest. The battery always does so at this point in the graduating exercises, and the old mountain has a hard time of It.

In the alternoon there was a meeting of the alumni in the chapel, and General Egbert L. Viele made an eloquent address, presenting to the association a picture of General Robert Anderson. The picture is to hang in the memorial hall which is to be built here. It is hung in the mess hall temporarily. It represents General Anderson shading by a gun, over the eascabel of which is thrown the American flag. The artist has put in the face of the General ali that he felt and thought on that momentons occasion when he hauled down the flag at Fert Sumter.

General Viele, in his presentation speech, said, among other things:

"Andrson recognized the opportunity which came to him in the supreme hour of his country's peril, amid surroundings of great personal danger and under the weight of responsibility that few have been called upon to bear. He rose to the solemnites of a great occasion and was equal to the task imposed upon him."

This evening there was a rendom of the alumni at "the mess" and an informal hop in the mess hall. Three classmates of General Grant came to Cranston's Hotel yesterday to Fay their respects to the widow of the great general. They were Generals W. T. Reynelds, J. J. Reynolds and S. G.
